As the 4th largest city in Ireland, Galway has everything from Michelin-starred restaurants to open air markets, pubs, theatres, live music events, and an eclectic bunch of personalities.

Established in 1972, ATU Galway City includes a number of buildings on the east side of the city, overlooking Galway Bay, and a number of sports facilities.

ATU Galway City's building on the Old Dublin Road is one of Galway's iconic landmarks, due to the three distinctive sail-shaped copper panels at the front of the main building. This unique design helps identify the university as an innovator in modern technology and serves the practical purpose of housing the Library and IT Centre. This location offers undergraduate and postgraduate courses ranging from business, science, computing, engineering, culinary arts, hospitality, tourism and heritage.

They frequently win, and are shortlisted for, national and international awards that influence and develop the furniture industry.

ATU Mountbellew

Established by the Franciscan Brothers in 1904, the Mountbellew campus was the first agricultural college in Ireland. Mountbellew is a quiet, but growing market town 45kms from Galway City on the N63 road to Roscommon. The original college was demolished in 1971 and later replaced with a new building in 1975. In 1986, the Franciscan Brothers Agricultural College established a link with GMIT to deliver a Higher Certificate in Business Studies (Agri-Business).

Today, ATU students in Mountbellew can choose between degrees in rural enterprise and agri-business, agri-engineering or agri-science. They spend their time between the Mountbellew campus (one hour from Galway City) and the ATU Galway City campus.
